2. Click on Library or Group button

3. Select your sponsoring library from the menu/search box

The screenshot displays a digital library application interface. On the left is a sidebar menu with categories like Countries, Languages, and Categories (Animals & Pets, Art, Automotive, Boating & Aviation, Business & Current Affairs, Computers & Technology, Crafts & Hobbies, Design). The main content area features a 'Featured' section with a newspaper article from 'The Globe and Mail' titled 'CMHC head defends to'. A green arrow points from the sidebar to the 'Select Library' modal. This modal has a search bar containing 'naperville' and lists 'Library-Naperville Public Library'. Below the list is a promotional message about complimentary access to PressReader. To the right of the modal is a grid of magazine covers, including 'The New Antip', 'Soccer 360', 'Vancouver Magazine', and 'Travel'. A 'Sign In' button and a 'Search Publications' bar are at the top right.

5. Sign up for a free account on PressReader

The screenshot shows the 'New User' sign-up form on the PressReader website. The form is titled 'New User' and has a 'Cancel' button in the top left corner. The main text reads: 'Tell us a bit about yourself. We'll create a public nickname. You can change it later.' Below this, there are input fields for 'Email address', 'Password', 'First Name', and 'Last Name'. There are two checkboxes for email communications: 'General updates' (with subtext 'New titles, new features, and other cool updates.') and 'New issues and topic trends' (with subtext 'Choose from your saved topics and favorite publications below.'). Below the checkboxes, it says 'By registering for a PressReader account, you agree to the Terms of Use and the Privacy Policy'. There is a large green button labeled 'Create my account'. Below this button, there is a link that says 'No, thanks.' in green, followed by the text 'I don't want the awesome bonus account features. Without an account, you can still read PressReader's entire catalog.' At the bottom of the form, it says 'Existing User? Please sign in'.
